- ♥ TRUST

Created by Aneta Mildiani, The HEART Formula[®] is a comprehensive relationship framework refined over years of research, advanced psychological study and hands-on work with clients across the globe. It distills the most consistent patterns behind relationship breakdowns into five essential pillars: Harmony, Empathy, Affection, Respect and Trust.

Rather than addressing surface-level conflicts, The HEART Formula[®] targets the underlying dynamics that erode connection – unspoken needs, unresolved wounds and emotional misalignment. Its structure blends evidence-based strategies with a deep understanding of human behavior, providing clear, actionable tools to restore balance, rebuild trust and create enduring emotional bonds.

Far more than a single coaching program, The HEART Formula[®] underpins Aneta's entire body of work – from her books and professional training for other coaches, to her workshops, online courses and private consulting.

This methodology has been applied successfully with individuals and couples worldwide, earning recognition for its measurable results and long-term impact.

By combining classical relationship principles with modern psychological insights, The HEART Formula[®] has become a respected reference point in contemporary relationship coaching and is a proven system for transforming fragile connections into resilient, fulfilling partnerships.
